Baby Ragsdale Wins 'First Baby' Prizes

Richard Allen Ragsdale was born in San Antonio Community Hospital at 7:02 a.m. on Jan. 1 to become the winner in The Upland News Stork Sweepstakes.

Richard Allen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry D. Ragsdale, 225 W. G St., Ontario, and had little competition on the 1961 Stork race.

Rules included the first baby born in San Antonio, Ontario and Kaiser hospitals to parents residing within Upland, Cucamonga, Etiwanda, Alta Loma or with an Ontario mailing address.

Ontario Hospital reported that it lost out completely by not having a baby born on Jan. 1 and Kaiser said none of its New Year's Day babies had parents from the contest area.

THE 1961 STORK Sweepstakes winner was slightly later than the 1960 winner who arrived on the scene at 2:10 p.m. on Jan. 1.

This was Donald Anderson Wilhoit, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wilhoit, 770 Highland Ct., Upland, and who celebrated his first birthday anniversary on Sunday.

The News will present the Ragsdales with an Award Letter authorizing them to collect the following prizes of merchants who joined with The News in sponsoring the Stork Sweepstakes this year.

Richard Allen will have a $5 savings account opened in his name at Upland Savings & Loan Association, Second and 9th streets in Upland; he will receive one quart of milk daily for one month from Shady Grove Dairy, Seventh St. and Grove, Upland; a baby book from Newton's Stationary Store, 109 N. Euclid Ave., Ontario, and a $5 floral gift from Rosedale's Flowers, 85 E. Foothill, Upland.

Chino Basin Water Board Names Prexy

At a meeting Tuesday, John D. Saussaman was elected president to serve a two-year term on the Chino Basin Municipal Water District.

Saussaman was named by directors during an organization meeting of the directors.

Also elected were Ernest W. Soper, vice president, and Otto S. Rowen, secretary-treasurer.

Two new directors, Robert Walline and Carl Massingale, were officially seated during the meeting.

Both were elected to posts last year. Massingale in the spring voting and Walline defeated Upland Councilman Phil Holden in voting during the national election last November.

All new officers seated on Tuesday will serve two-year terms.

Egolf Services To be Thursday

Funeral Services for Edgar Egolf, 71, of 529 E. Ninth St., Upland, were scheduled to be held at 10 a.m. Thursday at Stone Funeral Home with Carl C. Wolfe, a layman from the Christadelphian Church, officiating.

Burial will be in Bellevue Cemetery.

Mr. Egolf died Sunday at San Bernardino Hospital. He had been ill for several years and had resided in Upland for the last 10 years.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Dean Allred, Helper, Utah; four sons, Virgil, Robert and Calris, all of Sacramento, and Aubrey, Reno, Nev.; three sisters, Mrs. Herman Calhoun, Highland, Calif.; Mrs. Thomas Frederick, Escondido, and Mrs. George Dennis, Pinellas Park, Fla.; and two brothers, Elmer, Olympia, Wash., and Oscar, Omaha, Neb.; nine grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

First Church Unit Ready

Opening services will be held Sunday at 11 a.m. in the new First Church of Christ, Scientist, 1429 N. Euclid Ave., Ontario.

The first unit of the new church consists of Sunday School auditorium with a seating capacity of 224 and offices and is of brick construction with contrasting plaster.

The history of the church dates back to the early 1900s when the Christian Science Society of Upland united with the Ontario Society to organize the First Church of Christ of Ontario as a branch of the mother church in Boston. A charter was obtained in 1913.

Contractor for the first unit of the church is Emory Jackson, Montclair, and the landscaping will be done by William Gilliland, Upland.

Ministers Deny Storyland O.K.

A spokesman for ministers of the Upland-Ontario area emphatically denied this morning that they had resolved their objections to Bible Storyland.

The ministers met Wednesday morning after a story appeared in another area newspaper stating that the ministers and developers of the Bible Storyland were resolving their objections.

The spokesman for the ministers said "we want to let the public know that there has been a distortion of facts and that we are still as opposed to religion in the form of an amusement park as ever."

At the Wednesday meeting a Central Committee was re-activated to reiterate ministers' opposition to the plan for the Storyland as it now stands.

John Nappi Rites Held Last Friday

Funeral services were conducted last Friday for John V. Nappi, 594 N. Campus Ave., Upland. He died on Dec. 26 at age 48.

Services were held at St. Joseph's Catholic Church with The Rev. Michael Browne officiating. Stone Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements and burial was in Bellevue Cemetery.

New Water Billing Plan Put in Effect by City

The City of Upland's new water billing and accounting system became effective Jan. 1, according to City Manager Elwin Alder. The new water system, which was recently authorized by the City Council, is the first of several municipal operations to be converted to data-processing.

"As a part of this new data-processing system, a new scheduling for the reading of water meters has been adopted whereby a portion of the meters will be read each work day of the month, thereby equalizing peakloads in work assignment", Alder stated.

Upland citizens who live east of Euclid Ave. will realize the effects of the new reading and billing system with the receipt of their new statement next week. Many citizens will be receiving their normal two-month water and refuse statement, however it will be on a new and more detailed form.

THERE WILL BE some residents who live east of Euclid Ave. and who received their last statement in December. These people will receive only a partial billing in January, to cover only that water used or refuse collection service realized since their last billing. Thereafter, however, they will receive a normal statement the first of every other month.

Upland residents who live west of Euclid will not receive their new statements until Feb. 1. Many will be for the normal two month period, their last statement having been received Dec. 1. There will, however, be certain water accounts which will have not received a billing since November, and therefore there first new statement will cover a period in excess of the normal two months, and in some case up to a three month period. Thereafter, however, the normal two month statement will be sent.

THIS MATTER of a less than normal or more than normal statement is caused by the fact that certain accounts were transferred from one billing cycle to the other with the refinement and streamlining of scheduling meter reading.

According to City Manager Alder, "This new data-processing system, which is similar to the systems used by other public utilities, will result in a more efficient operation, at considerable savings over the years. Savings will be realized today and in the future as Upland grows."

"Upland residents having questions regarding this new metering reading and billing system should call the Public Works office for clarification", stated Alder.

Council Alters General Plan; Okays Permit

City Council Tuesday night denied a request for a zone change on land located between the Freeway and Eighth St. on the east side of Euclid Ave. but modified the Planning Master Plan covering the area and agreed to issue conditional use permits for commercial and professional development.

The action came on a recommendation from the consultant to the Planning Commission after considerable discussion on anticipated traffic problems.

The planning consultant recommended that Council avoid zone changes in this and other areas along Euclid which would shut the door on enforcement of precise plans in the development of the area.

Under a conditional use permit developers must agree to abide by specific conditions setforth at the time such permits are used.

Council adopted by resolution Councilman Phil Holden's motion that the Master Plan be amended to change the designation of the area from low density residential to commercial and professional use.

Dr. Kimbrough told Council at an earlier meeting that he planned to construct a medical center for his office on the northeast corner of Euclid Ave. and Seventh St. He will be granted a conditional use permit for this purpose.

Council Tuesday night also amended its newly adopted business license fee ordinance to place utilities serving Upland under a franchise fee in a new classification and established a flat fee of $100 each year for these utilities.

Edison Electric and Southern Counties Gas both serve Upland under the franchise fee system.

Council also agreed to meet in an adjourned session at 4 p.m. on Jan. 10 to discuss a long range capital improvements program.

CITY MANAGER ELWIN Alder told Council that this was an urgent matter which must be dispensed with prior to the start of working on budgets for the coming fiscal year.

In other business, Council delayed action on a request for a rate change by ambulance service operators in Upland and instructed City Attorney Henry Busch and Alder to meet with the ambulance people and present a compromise proposal in an attempt to reach a mutual agreement on a rate schedule which would be presented at the next regular session.

Council also delayed action on a rate increase request by taxi cab companies operating in Upland at the request of a spokesman for the cab companies.

Program Needs Togetherness

By Howard Archer

Orange County Industrial Chairman, Jack Mullen, Tuesday presented members and guests of the Upland Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors with an industrial growth program that could ultimately put the Upland area among the most progressive in Southern California.

The program which Mullen applied to Newport Harbor and Costa Mesa has increased industrial and population growth in those two areas nearly 50,000 during the last five years.

Mullen detailed for the local group a well-organized and economical plan under which industry and residential development of the area could be a reality within a few years but it carried with it a challenge for concerted effort on the part of the Chamber, city officials, realtors and citizens of the area.

AMONG GUESTS of the board for the meeting were Mayor Abner Haldeman, City Manager Elwin Alder, Councilman Bill Kistinger, Developer L. G. Johnson and Upland News publisher, Mel Hodell.

Mullen told the meeting that Upland would first have to decide its goals and aims in the area of growth and exprogram.

"An outsider can not decide these things for you," Mullen said, "but you must consider a balance of employment, residential and industry with an aim towards lower taxes."

Mullen suggested the first step in the actual program be an economic survey of the entire immediate area. Then, he said, you should consult with executives of various firms to ascertain what they consider desirable in a community.

"From these reports you must then set about creating a climate favorable to industry and organized growth," he explained.

THE NEWPORT Harbor realtor said many electronic and research firms were moving from the Los Angeles area because smog conditions were not conducive to control of temperatures in the developing of many of their products.

He said Upland, like his own area, offered ideal conditions under which to entice these industries into the area.

Mullen said most industry today looked for adequate housing, transportation facilities and studied building, land and insurance costs along with utility rates and flood control conditions before giving serious thought to locating a new plant.

When asked, during a question and answer period, what his experiences had been in dealing with areas where land owners refused to sell, Mullen replied:

"It became necessary to start from the outlaying areas where land was available and work towards the inside when these conditions existed."

MULLEN QUOTED national figures on the effects of new industry into an area. He said for each 150 new employees who come to a community it creates a need for 300 additional housing units by bringing in 1000 more new people to the area.

He also said that $1 in assessed plant value was equal to $4 in assessed residential value.

Mullen also explained that the ideal condition is to have a basic industry which brings in outside money. He pointed out that Disneyland was the most prominent of this type industry in Orange County.

He compared the bringing in of outside money with an industry of this type to that of a local industry which adds to the economy of a community but circulates the same money within the area. You need both for the best conditions, he added.

"The program which I have outlined is not nearly as expensive as you might think," Mullen said.

"WE SPENT about $1,000 over a two-year period in developing this plan which has worked so successfully for us in the Newport Harbor-Costa Mesa area," he explained.

In closing, Mullen stated that the entire program would require the close and constant cooperation of all agencies within the area to organize and successfully promote such a plan of organized growth and community expansion.

Chamber president, Paul Hottel, told the group at the conclusion of Mullen's talk that "we should work together for this overall program without concern for who gets the credit."

Problems of Aged Topic For Meeting

Problems of the aged and how they can be met was the topic of Mrs. Hilda Russell Hansen when she spoke at the Wednesday general meeting of the Upland-Ontario branch of American Association of University Women.

Mrs. Hansen is in charge of the cases of the aged in this area for the San Bernardino County Welfare Department and recently attended the California governor's conference during which various phases of problems of the aged were discussed.

The meeting was scheduled for 8 p.m. Wednesday at Upland College dining hall and Nina Morris' committee on social and economic issues was host for the session.

West End Citrus Crop Outlook Still Good Says County Report

Little or no damage from frost which spread over the county during early December resulted to citrus in the area, the San Bernardino County Department of Agriculture stated in its monthly report.

Wind machines and grove heaters were necessary in most groves the report stated and rainfall was less than one-half inch for the month, necessitating a return to irrigation practices.

The harvest of the new crop of Navel oranges is underway in all districts and the fruit is of excellent quality, both interior and exterior, resulting in high standard marketable fruit.

PRODUCTION TO date of the Navel orange is slightly under previous estimates the report says. The new estimate is now 60 percent of the average crop for the county, or two percent less than the original estimate.

The new crop of Valencia oranges continues to look promising although fruit growth has slowed from the previous months. This, the department says, is due to lack of sufficient rainfall during December.

This crop is now estimated at 77 percent of normal for the county.

Grapefruit also appears good at this time states the report. Fruit size is small for this time of year in some localities but favorable weather should increase the size. The new crop is estimated at 83 percent of average for the county.

THE PICKING of lemons continued unabated during December in the West End lemon districts and fruit now being harvested is more colored than the previous month due to the recent cool nights and warm days the report for December stated.

The trees, according to the report, continue to produce an abundance of winter bloom, indicating a substantial crop increase in the spring, providing, of course, good growing weather continues.

The previous forecast of 75 percent of average for the county still holds.

Fall vegetable crops harvested during December were cabbage, cauliflower and sweet potatoes.

Now that you've been in school for a few days, it's time to get back into the swing of things. Remember, next vacation is the week after Easter. But for now you'd better settle down to the old routine of school work and homework.

If there's any time left over after the homework's been done, there are some really good movies playing according to the regular movie goers. "Bells Are Ringing" starring Dean Martin and Judy Holiday, is an excellent musical. Walt Disney's "The Swiss Family Robinson" is a film version of the famous classic. If you care to travel to the big city, "The World of Susie Wong" has a long engagement in the city of the Angels.

MANY OF YOU have seen, heard about, or read about the action of our varsity basketball team. It seems to me that we need a few more marks in the victory column. Come on Highlanders lets get out and give our team all the support we can. They need it! Remember league season is coming up soon and we're going to take the championship. How about staying for the B games too.

Adventure! Suspense! Action! Mystery! Are you looking for any of these? If you are, I have a suggestion. Try reading some of the novels in the library. Some of the most popular books are Kon Tiki by Thor Heyerdahl, Anne Frank's The Diary of a Young Girl', Jane Eyre by Charlotte Bronte, and her sister Emily's Wuthering Heights.

Don't forget the ballot box in the bookstore. Starting next week, your choices will appear in this column. Until then, don't study too hard.

200 Guests Served at Holiday Tea

Mrs. Everett W. Henry and Mrs. Floyd G. Allen were hostesses at a holiday tea at Mrs. Allen's home, 1489 N. Euclid Ave., Thursday, Dec. 29.

Approximately 200 guests called between the hours of 3-6 p.m. Mrs. Allen's home was decorated in keeping with the season. A white flocked Christmas tree hung with pastel Christmas ornaments was the focal point of the living room. Arrangements of orchids, grown by Mrs. Henry, added special interest to the decor.

Tea was served from a festive table, covered with a cutwork linen embroidered cloth and centered with a crystal tier of gold and green Christmas balls, topped with a gold angel holding a green candle. Crystal candelabra with green candles completed the table.

Pouring for the hostesses were Mmes. Wilfred Stevens, Marilyn Dickinson, Walter Stewart, Frank Nichols, Robert Mills, Glenn Atwood, Charles MacClean, Leslie Kahl, Ellen Falkenrath, Wayne Cameron, Daniel Millikin and William Montgomery.

Assisting in the dining room were Mmes. Paul Bodenhamer and Marguerite Adams.

First Federal Growth 'Greatest in History'

The opening of Pomona First Federal's fourth location, opposite Pomona Valley Center, marks another milestone in the progress of this 68-year-old institution which has dedicated itself to the service of its customers and the community as a whole.

The Association climaxes a year which, in the words of President, Paul D. Walker, "has seen the greatest growth in our history."

During 1960, Walker reports, savings membership rose to more than 25,000 with savings accounts amounting to $72,500,000, contributing to total assets of approximately $90,000,000. After setting aside reserves at an all-time high of $6,600,000, dividends of over $3,000,000 have been distributed.

The 680 loans for new home construction made in the year ending December 31, 1960, totaled $6,100,000; while loans for property improvement amounted to $1,506,601, Walker states.

"WE HAVE JUST two primary purposes," he says, "to promote thrift and to facilitate home ownership and home betterment. We are proud to be performing these important functions for an ever-increasing number of our neighbors in this fast-developing area. We are also gratified to know that our services have helped the community grow. As our population expands and spreads out, we have established offices for the greater convenience of savers and borrowers.

Loans for property improvement are expected to form an important part of Pomona First Federal's business activity during 1961, says W. W. Wells, in charge of this department for the Association.

"New housing starts throughout the country in general are down somewhat from the peak years of the mid-'50's," Wells says, "and although the area is still experiencing rapid and substantial growth, the rate of new housing starts has leveled off.

However, this is compensated for by the increasing interest in enlargement and improvement of older properties. Funds are currently in great demand by families wishing to modernize or repair older homes. Also, owners of homes built recently are finding the need to add more rooms as their families increase. Owners of homes both old and new are joining the swing to built-in kitchens, swimming pools, indoor-outdoor playrooms, and other features which contribute to easier and more enjoyable living.

The three necessary things for good government are religion, morality and knowledge, according to Michigan's Ordinance of 1787.

The Statue of Liberty weighs 225 tons.

Milk Expected To Cost Less During 1961

California homemakers can expect to pay slightly less for milk next year.

Olan D. Forker, University of California Agricultural Extension Service economist at Berkeley, also forecast that other manufactured dairy products such as butter, ice cream, cottage cheese, skim milk, and dried milk will probably cost them about the same in 1961 as in the previous year.

Other predictions made by Forker on the outlook for the state's dairy industry in the coming year are:

1. Milk production is likely to climb to an all-time high of close to eight billion pounds, a slight increase from the 7,850 million pounds in 1960.
2. Per capita consumption of milk and most other dairy products probably will not rise.
3. Normal population increase will boost the use of milk and cream one per cent to about 4,850 million pounds.
4. With some 3,150 million pounds thus available for other uses, the production of manufactured dairy products can be expected to continue rising.

California's 1961 Economic Outlook

In 1960 the California economy broke all previous records. Although the 1961 picture has been darkened recently by general conditions, Californians can look forward to another year of growth that should be marked only by a slowing of the long term rate of expansion of the state's industrial pattern.

With productivity still increasing and population continuing its rapid expansion, 1961 should witness new records in employment and consumer spending though these should exceed the totals set in 1960 by rather more moderate margins than has often occurred year-to-year in the past.

In the new year it is likely that California will see the attainment of the following goals:

—A population of 16,400,000 by mid-year (a 3.4 per cent or 540,000 increase over 1960 with gains of 305,00 from in-migration and 235,000 by natural increase).

—Personal incomes of California residents may reach $45 billion, representing an increase of 4.2 per cent over 1960.

—Payrolls should attain an annual rate of nearly $30.5 billion or about 5 per cent over 1960 (this item accounts for two-thirds of all incomes of individuals).

—Retail trade many reach $23.5 billion or 4 per cent over 1960.

—A civilian labor force of 6,640,000 or 3.6 per cent over 1960.

—Employment of 6,265,000 or 3 per cent over 1960.

—The agriculture outlook is that California will do better than that of the nation as a whole, due to larger anticipated agricultural production during the time when the income of individuals in the national market is on the increase.

AN EXAMINATION of the broad changes in California's employment pattern over a period of two decades indicates that the state is rapidly becoming more and more like the nation as a whole. An examination of the national outlook, therefore, is pertinent to an outlook of California's immediate future. The outlook shows:

1. The gross national product (the value of the total output of goods and services) may rise moderately to more than $510 billion, nearly $7 billion above that of 1960.
2. Business and Industrial investment in plant and equipment is expected to decline from $49 billion in 1960 to not much over $45 billion in 1961.
3. Domestic demand for Petroleum products in 1951 should be about 2 per cent higher than in 1960.
4. Inventories may be reduced during the first half of 1961, but there is likely to be some rebuilding after the middle of the year.
5. Personal income in 1961 may likely reach $415 billion-a gain of about $10 billion over the year before.

Continued business development and progress can be anticipated for California in order to provide adequate facilities for the state's expanding economy. The California market is growing and it is becoming richer. The state faces a very bountiful and prosperous future provided we are wise enough to insist on the maintenance of a good business climate in California.

Sales Tax Deductions System is Explained

A table reflecting the average sales tax deduction claimed by Taxpayers in the preparation of their 1960 Federal Income Tax Returns was announced by Robert A. Riddell, District Director of Internal Revenue for the Los Angeles District. This table is for use by taxpayers who itemize their deductions on either Form 1040 or 1040W and reside in the 12 counties of Southern California.

Riddell stated that the law requires taxpayers to substantiate any deduction claimed on their returns and if requested by the Internal Revenue Service, they must be prepared to do so. Ordinarily, however, they will not be asked to produce records to support sales tax deduction claimed unless it exceeds the amount shown in the table.

Taxpayers who use the standard deduction in lieu of itemizing their deductions or use Form 1040A may not use the table.

The average general sales tax table includes payments at the rate of 3 per cent for state sales tax and 1 per cent for local sales tax.

Taxpayers who have questions regarding the use of this table and reside in the greater Los Angeles Metropolitan Area should telephone MAdison 5-8992. Taxpayers who reside outside the Metropolitan Area should telephone their local office of Internal Revenue.

Residents' average general sales tax payment for the 12 counties of Southern California for use in the preparation of 1960 Federal Income Tax Returns:

THE FARMERS CORNER

By Richard Johnsen, Jr.
(Executive Secretary, Agricultural Council of California)

NEW YEAR

The decade of the Sixties has begun in earnest, and as we enter the New Year of 1961 California agriculture and the nation are faced with new opportunities and new challenges. Agriculture faces a new administration on the national level which will bring fresh ideas to be tried and tested. A new corps of leaders will be proposing, interpreting and administering farm programs that will directly or indirectly affect every farmer as well as the public at large.

On the State level there will also be changes, with a new Director of Agriculture assuming command of the nation's finest State Department of Agriculture. In the many fields of production, management, labor, marketing and service California agriculture will face innumerable challenges but opportunities will also be present, and 1961 looks like a new year in which California agriculture may move forward on all fronts.

AS WE MOVE into a new year we must have foresight, coupled with hindsight. Experiences of the past can and should be guideposts to the future, but past experiences should not be carried as millstones around the neck. In looking ahead, the New Year's resolutions for farmers should include a sincere pledge to scrutinize carefully the new programs and ideas which are offered; to adopt a bipartisan approach in the seeking of solutions to our many complex problems; to put down petty jealousies and work together for the over- and our nation. all good of our agriculture

Bank of America Total Resources At All-Time High

All-time highs in total resources, deposits and loans as well as record earnings for the past year were reported by Bank of America in its Dec. 31, 1960, statement of condition.

"Our loans outstanding at the year-end totaled $6,699,494,437, as compared with the previous high of $6,599,668,231 at the close of 1959," said President S. Clark Beise in commenting on the report.

This is evidence that business activity in California has continued at a generally high level," Beise declared.

TOTAL DEPOSITS on Dec. 31 stood at $10,805,891,450, as against $10,624,958,182 a year ago. Total resources of the bank amounted to $11,941,981,259 at year end, compared with $11,669,404,346 on Dec. 31, 1959.

Investments in securities totaled $2,702,508,087, whereas a year earlier they aggregated $2,725,392,943.

"During the year, we added 43 new branches to keep pace with the continuing growth of our state," Beise commented. "We also brought into operation seven additional ERMA centers, thus putting behind us the major portion of our program of conversion to electronic processing of checking accounts."

Beise reported that net operating earnings amounted to a record $93,228,177, or the equivalent of $3.64 per share on the 25,600,000 shares outstanding. This compared with the previous high of $86,297,920, or $3.37 a share, earned in 1959.
